Prof. (Dr.) Rakesh Sinha, Member of Parliament - Rajya Sabha was the Chief Guest who delivered the keynote address. Other dignitaries present on the occasion as Guests of Honour were Shri V Nagaraj, Honorary Secretary, The Mythic Society and Justice A V Chandrashekar, Former Judge - High Court of Karnataka. Shri K C Ramamurthy, IPS (Retd.), Member of Parliament - Rajya Sabha and Chairman of CMR Group of Institutions presided over the function.

Prof. (Dr.) T.R. Subramanya, Dean School of Legal Studies and Coordinator of the Center welcomed the gathering.

In his address, Prof. Sinha said the fulcrum of quality education has shifted from North India to the South in Bangalore. "The Centre of gravity of quality education is contributing to the objective of resurrecting India's civilisation and CMR University is the first to start a Centre for studies on New India", he said. He elaborated on the diversity of India and its rich culture. "The New India calls for revolution of culture and ideologies. There is also an economic revolution as we see it currently. Vitality has been infused in the Indian system. We have to fight against the forces who are disruptive of the ideas of equality. We are here to establish the glory of our civilisation", said Prof. Sinha in his keynote address.

The objective of establishing the Centre for studies on New India at the School of Legal Studies in CMR University is to study a New India that not only seeks to be self-reliant, but also to be a significant contributor to global peace. The centre attempts to pursue a variety of meaningful activities to achieve this purpose. "As an institution seeking academic excellence, the centre will conduct crucial research and other related activities including publication of books, videos and other similar material so that the burning issues related to the development of the country reaches the common man", said Shri Ramamurthy, Chairman of CMR Group of Institutions. "India is a vishwa guru now and we are proud about it. We have a New India that respects our partners and is helping our neighbours. The world is recognising and honouring us for this", he added.

Referring to Swami Vivekananda's clarion call for a New India, Shri V Nagaraj said, "There has been inequity in social, political and economic spheres; this must stop in the revival of a New India." He reflected on the philosophy of the whole; this manifestation of the universe being inter-connected. "For good governance and a corruption-free nation, the people of the country must feel transformed as transformation comes from the fraternity. The whole nation must feel one", he pointed out.

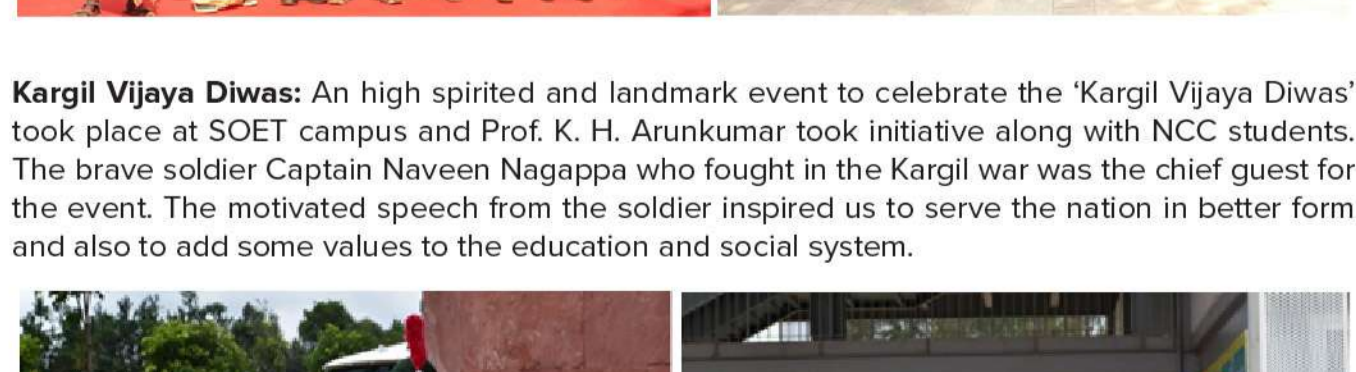

Justice A V Chandrashekar was of the opinion that the constitution of India is very relevant as article 14 of the Indian constitution speaks about equality in all aspects. He was positive that brighter days are ahead and emphasised on the importance to study the constitution of India to eradicate the inequality to justice.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by Dr. V.J. Praneshwaran and the singing of the National Anthem.
